TUESDAY, FRURUARY 12, 1839.

[Ca.taspenderne of the Whig & Courier.] . Wagnington, Feb. 4, 1839.

This morning, in the House, Mr. Davis mov ed a resolution fixing the daily hour of meeting, honeafelt, at 11 o'clock, instead of 12 o'clock. The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Everett (petitions being the order of the day,) neoke on an appeal, taken by himself, on the tast petition day, to a decision of the Speak er, whereby the resolutions of the State of Vet ment, protesting against the vote on the Atherion resolutions, were declared liable to be laid on the table under those resolutions. - x.

Mr. Everett contended that this was not a petition or paper against Stavery, or in favor of abolition, but the voice of the tegistature of a Sovereign State, protesting ngainst an obnoxious resolution, to which that House had come

The chair defended his ruling. "Mi. Dionion indied to lay the appear on the table, which motion prevailed, 122 to 44.

Among those-who voted in the affirmative on this question; I find the names of Messrs. Anderson, Davee, and Parris, of Maine. Among the negatives, thus of Mesers. - Evans, Noves, and Robinson, of the same State there being one vacancy, and Mr. F. O. J. Smith being ab-

Mr. Slade, (the State of Vermont being called for petitions,) went-on, and presented a large number or memorials of various kinds.

Among these were a large number, very numerously signed by the constituents of the Hon. Mr. Duncan, of Hamilton County, Ohio.

On a large petition, praying for the rescinding of the Atherton resolutions, being presented, Slade asked for the reading of the memorial, which was argumentative in its character. It was granted, after some opposition from Cyrus Beers, Howard of Baltimore, and others:

Many tother petitions were presented ... Nothing further of interest, here, or in the Senate. Yours truly, &c.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5, 7839. fangled electioneering project. Several Sena- gera. tors spoke, but the debate was not interesting. The Senate then spent some time in an Executive session.

The House, during the merining hour-diceve wed further the proposition of Benton, Jr., 14 but he took no notice of it, when I turned to the mean Cambreleng, to correct the Financial Report of his Committee. The arrival of one of an instructor, and entered into conversation with clock, out off this debate, and the House went to the orders of the day and, on motion, into and said to the late Treasurer, I have some mon-Committee of the Whole, again, Mr. Banks in ey for you. At these, words, "sleepy David, the chair, upon the Army Appropriation Bill.... Mr. Calhour's motion to restore the old, and 'u school boy. "Sir, your most" said the Treas. anal appropriation of 300,000 instead of 300,000 urer. "I frave five dollars for a Justice Commisfor arsonals, being under consideration."

teresting speech the object of which was, in ness of the plate, said the Treasurer, taking the reply to Mr. Pickens' administration speech of shin-plaster. This is a promissory note of the the other day, to show that the South had not Neguemkear Bank in its corporate capacity; and good ground to go upon, in giving in their ad. I believe, is corrent in Boston let it be entered hesion to this administration's messures, as in- upon the books of this Department, and a receipt vited by Mr. Van Buren, sa fed on by Mr. Cal. | given accordingly at the same time depositing houn, and as advised by Mr. Pickens.

To do this, Mr. Thompson went juto a very lucil and interesting, though a condensed and succint review of Gen. Jeckson's and Mr. Van Buren's administrations, and engaged the attencolleague's propositions.

The as-endment under consideration was not adopted by the Committee the bill, slightly a mended, was reported to the House, and then a motion to adjourn was made and carried. Yours truly, &c.

BESSES. FOWARDS & SWITE:

My attention; has been as much engrossed the two days past, in listening to discussions, and lectures upon Temporance and Anti-Slavery, before The State Bocieties, for the promotion of there subjects, no., in acssion at this place, that I shall not have time before my return to do justice to all the remarkable need of the present State Administration, whose names are enrolled in the book of tame.

I cannot forbear, however, to mention a few more of the most conspicuous of members of the _lous-, to emplie you to form a correct tatimate of the character of the majority members. Among the most remarkable men in the House, I would mention Mr. Rauson of Rulaford. He seldous talks of anything but his lower democracy, and by this means he has acquired a great influence with they to ... He naminton with none but the "buge paws," and has more affection for the "democracy of numbers", judging from his conversation, than any other man, except Mr. Cushman of Dexter. It is said that he dates his democracy so far back, that he either does not recollect, or, indignantly and sometimes this t aughty, foluses to give any light upon the Engaly of Penobaset has the distinguished honor of sending some of the likeliest men there are in the House. Mr. Cortuen of Desterios powerful polin ; but Mr. Tholapson of Eddington, is running a race with him for the palm in his own Callyty a 14 M 15 yet a que "in of moth doubt a high mill win. Cushman relies upon his talenta and Mr. Thompson upon his high reputation for moral integrity and upon his part public x. vices, for the approving toles.

has to-encounter, is occasionally, when the leadto follow. He settles these questions latterly, it is said by tossing up a copper, and saying at the same time heads, I go with A -talle, I go with B: He is a dead set against all Banks and Corporations. He manifests a great abhorrence to land speculators and thinks they should be dealt with by the Government as a set of knaves and swindlers. He told his experience the other day to the House but I did not learn that he said said any thing of his experience in this bu-

Having heard so much of the farm of the flarmer ', I asked my friend to point him out to me. By some atranga and unaccountable association of ideas, the first sight of him, brought to my tion, either in the moral, political, civil or social recollection a certain picture which I have somewhere ween, of a certain long eared animal Mertius Soldies etaugies abou-pie ino bosteit. or limbs, with the glube resting upon his head. This strange impression however, was soon done away, by learning more of his character for l sang faund think as such, responsibility, rested wearis, a play can be manifed by the parter lute upon him. It is said that he is non-committed upon all subjects, until he knows liow the member from Houlton is going, and then takes the opposite side. There are about twenty young of granite. federal sprouts among the administration members which fintended to have noticed but the want of time prevents.

My-visit to the asveral Departments was short, but nevertheless, I read in them a chapter of acreturn's and Adjutant General's offices, the and retains a clerk or two and a deputy who tue. were federalists but they all make the better the idea of seeing Jeremials Goodwin (better punishment, to assume the garb of morality, un-the financial Department of the Government, naturally and forcibly excited me to give full scope to my_rigible powers and it was not with. He has been a great traveller, but, his knowledge of men and measures, nevertheless is contion of the House in a complete refutation of his fined, principally, to York-County. He thinks for legislative enactments can constitutionally, leather. Lynn Recorder. York has provided more great men than all the rest of the State, and has an exalted opinion of Nathan Chifford's process uprobably because he was the only man who could defeat his election to Congress. He thinks that Clifford's extensive knowledge of the world, and particularly his acquaintance with the manners and customs of the Slave States, will give him a high rank in Congress. Speaking of himself, he remarked, that when he was notified of his election to the office of Treasurer, he was utterly ustorished I think. sir, in that, you were not alone, said I, and with a low bow, left him, and went to the Land Of-

I afterwards inquired of a gentle-upp from Yeth crows of heaver the who this individual was, in the Land Office. He informed me that he was a few years since the federal candidate for Register of Deeds in York County, in opposition to Jeremials Goodwin. This antheigently accounts for the favor he finds with the present seministration.

A Mrs. Forhes left her child, an infant of two months, asleep in her bed, in the morning, and went about her usual pursuits. Shortly after, a young lady, whose bed-room was next that in which the child was left, was alarmed by its soreams, and on-hastening to ascertain their cause, she was horrified at perceiving a large rat tearing at its cheek, and within half an inch of the jugular vein! The domestic monster had commenced with the infant's hand, which he had severely torn, but had abandoned it for a part from which more blood could be obtained. Had not the young lady been at hand to render assistance, the child. which it is now said will connecessors, must in a few minnter have been killed.

On LOW SPIRITS. Low spirits is a certain state of the mind, accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds, and the worst consequences maguicd. Ancient writers supposed this discuse to be confined to those particular regions of the abdones technically called hypothonoris, which me should median right or left-side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochonilriasis:

Synptons. The common corporeal symptoms are flatuleity in the atomat hor bowels, actio eroctations, costiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness, dimness of sight, palpitations, and often an unter inabith, of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance, or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage. Also languiduess; the mind be comes irritable, thoughtful, desponding, melancholy and dejected, accompanied with a total derairgement of the persons system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that bount the imagina tion and overwhelm the judgment, exhibit an infinite diversity. The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the workest.

CAUSES A sedemary life of any kind; especially severe study, protracted To a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise, a dissolute habit, great execsu in eating and drinking, the immoderate use of mercury, vioion purgatives, the suppression of some listitual discharge, or long continued bruption; relaxations or debility of one as more imperiant organs with in abdomen, is frequent cause.

The ATMENT The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion, to strengthen the tody, and to eliver the spirits, which may be promoted by exercise, early hours, regular meals and pleasant convertation. The howels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient. We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr. Wm. Evans' Aperient Pills—being mild and certain in their operation. The bow-els being once cleansed, his inestimable Camamile Pills, (which are Icaic, anoudyne, or anti apasmodic) are an infallible remedy at without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public.

Rome physiciane have secommended fee the mercury but it should not by ... Tried to; as in many nest it will gractly aggrevate symptoms. Bold wholesale and retail by E. B. DUHEN, Bookseller,
